

EXPECT NO DELAY IN AGE CHECKS

Old age assistance checks to $4,000 aged aid recipients in Los Angeles county for the month of February are being made up in advance in the expectation that $1,600,000 of State and Federal money will be received by Feb. 1 to permit their mailing. County Auditor Joseph M. Lowery announced yesterday.

Release of this money to the county by the State Social Welfare Board is expected to be made by the State board on Jan. 29. At that time county supervisors will appear before the state board and report their capitulation to the demands of the board that they take agreements from aged not to encumber their property. County supervisors have voted to rescind their former action in refusing to require these agreements.

Matter Rests With State
Lowery's statement asserted that checks will be mailed out on time provided the State authorities speed the sending of the money. If the State authorities delay in sending this money to the county, Lowery will be compelled to withhold the checks until the money is actually received.

Supervisors declare they have done all in their power to insure receipt by the aged of their February checks when due and that the entire matter now rests with the State authorities. They also advise the aged not to besiege their offices with inquiries regarding the matter as it is now beyond their control.

Additional workers to assist in the work of taking the agreements from the aged aid recipients have been authorized by the supervisors and this task is expected to be resumed immediately.

Request to Grade Avenue Is Filed

A request of property owners along Ocean avenue north of Highway 101 in Welteria that the avenue be graded to its full 50-foot width was filed by the council Tuesday night after City Engineer Leonard Young reported that the avenue consists of "a fairly serviceable road for 300 feet north of Highway 101."

J. W. Loughridge, president of the Welteria Civic Organization, pointed out that Ocean's residents desired the street widened by grading in order to turn their cars around in it once they drive up the avenue.

Beauty and You

by PATRICIA LINDSAY

The well-poised girl who is nicely groomed always makes a good impression upon prospective employers.

To Get and Hold a Job Girls Must Be Fastidious

DURING these days of disturbed economies, competition is keen and jobs are hard to get. A girl may have talent, good training and a desire to do a job well, yet she lacks the opportunity to demonstrate her ability. She's up against a terrific problem, especially if she must depend upon a job for self-support. Her chance of getting employment is by making a favorable impression the very first time a prospective employer interviews her, and holding the job once it is hers, depends greatly upon good sense. For the first time favorable impression must be preserved under all circumstances. Your clothes must be clean, well pressed and nicely fitting. All of that you can do yourself. Your hair must be dressed becomingly, your skin should be as clear and fresh looking, as rest and external care can make it. Your hands should be faultlessly manicured with no hang nails or bitten nails betraying jittery nerves or lack of self-confidence.

Just try to put yourself in an employer's place. Imagine that you were going to pay out good money for someone to help you with a job. Would you hire a girl who was late for her appointment, who wore clothes which were not appropriate for business, and looked sadly in need of her attention? Could you be favorably impressed with a girl who drew off soiled gloves and revealed hands which were not manicured? Or displayed unattractive bitten nails? Would you want to have a girl around you day in and day out who wore soiled hose with seams twisted and allowed her hair to show the need of shampoo and setting? Of course you wouldn't.

You would choose a girl who seemed eager to work at the job in question, and who showed her appreciation of the opportunity by being as attractive as possible. She would strive to be cheerful and pleasing even though private problems gnawed at her heart. She would never drag herself into the office late, exhausted from the former evening's party. As long as she needed that job she would keep her energy up to par for the day's duties, and keep her boss thinking he couldn't replace her easily, even though hundreds of girls would give their eye teeth for the job he had to offer.

I haven't the space to go into details of what individual employers hope to find in an employee. An office executive naturally desires a girl to be an efficient secretary, whereas a mill or factory owner has more need of an efficient piece worker. But it is safe to advise you that all employers are impressed by a girl or woman who looks "neat and clean" and has a dash of self assurance. Play smart and always be on the conservative side in your make-up when you apply for a job. Later you may find that vivid fingernails and lip rouge are not objected to, but as most men seem to like the natural or rose shades wear one for the interview. Tailored, simple clothes and sports hats most always please men employers and women employers definitely are impressed by them.

Wear a smile and show poise, knowing that you are at your best, then if you do not land the job it is no fault of yours! The next one you go after may be given you, and embrace it with a firm resolution to be fastidious in your grooming, your duties and your actions!
